It's all about FAMILY

Time flies so fast. Sometimes you just want to push a pause button and freeze time. To make sure you remember those warm hugs from sticky little hands from your favourite tiny humans before they grow to independent young adults and start a life of their own.

Booking a session with Irina Nilsson Photography is the perfect way to press pause, to gather as a family in one of your favourite locations and take portraits that show your family just as you are. Together we can create moments that you, your kids and even your grandkids will treasure.

creating ARTWORK

I take pride in working together with you to provide you with something valuable that you can treasure and cherish for a long time. Even though we live in a digital era, I firmly believe that photos are best viewed in print, up on a wall, beautifully framed where you can see them every day. Soft copies are great to have for social media or for sharing photos with your loved ones over email, but let's face it, digital files easily end up on a hard drive unprinted, or printed in bad quality that won't last.

That's why I want to provide you with the memories we create together in form of artwork in archival quality that will keep for decades.

You will still receive soft copies of all the prints you buy, but the main product that I deliver will be artwork of your chosen size and form, that will last you a lifetime.

...it all starts here

From Couples sessions to Engagements and Weddings, photographing LOVE is my favourite thing.

The session is all about you, and I promise you it will be both fun and comfortable. You never have to worry about how to stand or what to do, I will gently guide you and help you create those moments that will last a lifetime on print.
